Art Unit: 1712

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-21, drawn to a polymer composition containing aluminum filler and a metal substrate to which the composition has been applied, classified in class 524, subclass 441.
- II. Claims 22-36, drawn to a method of aluminizing a metal surface, classified in class 427, subclass 229.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). The claims of group I essentially recite a composition comprising a polymer and aluminum powder wherein the term "aluminizing" is merely a recitation of intended use and, therefore, is not assessed patentable weight. There are a multitude of uses for compositions comprising these ingredients including electromagnetic wave-absorbing bodies, die attach adhesives, heat dissipating sheets, etc. Accordingly, restriction of the product/composition from the method is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

This application contains claims directed to patentably distinct species of the immense genus articulated as organic resins.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1 and 37 are generic. Claims 2 and 38 more particularly recite the distinct species for which support is provided in the original disclosure. Applicant is required to elect one of these species for prosecution.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Art Unit: 1712

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

A telephone call was made to Patrick Patton on January 27, 2004 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made. Applicant is reminded that there were actually telephone calls concerning different requirements placed on different days. Applicant had originally elected for Examination the claims of group I as defined herein but subsequent attempts to also have Applicant elect a species went unanswered. Applicant is advised that they are not bound to their original election if they so choose to, instead, elect group II with their written response to this correspondence.
